

Data Analytics

empowering energy leaders globally

Data Analytics provides the ability to better evaluate data to make rapid informed decisions in the competitive energy business.

The power of data in your users hands

As the volume of data continues to grow, you need a solution that grows with it. Data Analytics layers on to your CIS or Transactional Data enabling you to dig deeper, more quickly and efficiently to help guide your business decisions. Save hours of manual work and experience. Make your data more understandable and actionable. Unlock your data's hidden secrets.

Examine every aspect of your data (who, what, why, where & how) to proactively impact business performance. Access your dashboard with charts, graphs, and tables in one consolidated view. Interpret, analyze and correlate data to answer questions that you did not even know you had. Drill down to gain additional insight with a click.

Access to your data
when you need it

See your enrollment history at a glance and know immediately which utilities or sales agents have a higher fail rate than others. Drill down to granular data with a click. Gain deeper knowledge and understanding of your data to enable informed decision making, examine early trends and avoid pitfalls.

Data Driven Decisions

Put the power of data where it belongs. Users of all levels can access relevant data to benefit their customers, their department and their organization. They can visualize patterns and identify emerging trends in your business to better understand your customer and even change customer behaviour.
