

Gamma

Manage metering with tailored platform

empowering energy leaders globally

Using our unbeatable industry expertise we've produced software tailored for meter asset managers; Gamma is our appointment and asset management software solution

We've mastered metering.

Gamma is the ultimate management tool for meter asset managers; combining automated dataflow communication and verification with appointment management. Simple to use but with exceptional depth.

Accept metering appointments and manage asset status. All incoming and outgoing data is automatically validated using Gatekeeper and users have full visibility of in and outbound transactions. Gamma sends data directly to field force for complete schedule management.

Advanced appointment manager

Gamma covers a colossal wealth of analytical and historical data on MPRNs, transactions and flow data. Gamma also verifies and automatically identifies Erroneous meter asset data for exception management

Data encyclopedia & Error Management

Supervising manually inputted appointment data is a time consuming, laborious task. Take advantage of our managed service packages to automate appointment management and simplify your workflow

Take advantage of Managed Services

Meter Asset Management is a manual, complex and time consuming task. But it doesn't have to be.

Managing metering appointments and asset activity is slow and laborious, wasting time and staff workload.

Gamma is responsible for tracking metering appointments and communicating with field force software to update job requests and scheduling.

Meter data is displayed in a clear, intuitive web enabled interface that can be configured for multiple levels of user access.

Our system covers the complete life cycle of an MPRN, covering historical data across meters and supplier changes.

Gamma is intuitive in recognising held flow data for quick and efficient error management. These dataflow exceptions, which are often encountered from manual entry - are highlighted for rapid resolutions.

Gamma also integrates to all major field force providers for cross-communication with your data systems.

We'll manage your assets with our Managed Service Package
